

Capturing the essence of creativity, The Art Academy ~~London~~ brings together two furniture designers renowned for their playful style.

:DUFFY X Kim Thome present: PLAY for London Design Festival 2025, an interactive collaboration inviting people of all ages to engage with product design from a playful and colourful perspective.

The installation features a Duffy London Swing Table with bespoke features by Kim Thomé, where visitors are encouraged to take a seat on a swing and create freely, aptly situated in a place that celebrates creativity.

Duffy London's Swing table was first launched in 2009, which has facilitated creative thinking and dynamic meeting spaces in offices and Tech start-ups around the world. Coupled with Kim Thome's use of colour and materials, this Swing table leans further into its playful inspiration now more than ever.

Kim Thomé and Duffy London will be showing other work alongside their collaboration in the gallery space of AAL.
